She was able to make the process easy and made sure that nothing was overlooked or forgotten. During the session, Ann was able to encourage participation from everyone involved lead us through a structured but fun day. The positive feedback from everyone that attended was abundant and now we are thinking about this becoming an annual event. Great work Ann!"*

"As the new Executive Director at Central Development Corporation, I was looking for a way to engage staff in a fun team building exercise to learn more about each other and learn to communicate more effectively as a team. Ann helped me come up with a theme and walked us through the training. Her thoughtfulness and compassion in everything she does shines through always. Thank you Ann!"

Barbara Weeks, Executive Director,
Central Development Corporation

In 2020 PEI Bag Co (PBC) hired Ann to research best practises for Respectful Workplace policy and to create a training session for our employees. Our senior management team were 100% confident in Ann's ability to deliver on the task and provided Ann with complete control over the agenda and content of the training. The topic of Respectful Workplace is about workplace culture and not just a "policy"... Ann understood this important point. She led the training session with that difficult blend of respect for the topic, encouraging participation through roll playing, and real examples. When employees return to the workplace after training and actively make positive comments we know they "got it".
Thanks Ann!
